Sleek Audio Custom Earphone Impressions Information

- Sleek Audio's custom earphones are full shell earpieces that require a full-shell impression including full helix, tragus and anti-tragus
- The impressions must be made of high-viscosity silicone
- We require a deep impression past the second bend
- We would also like an open-mouth impression, head slightly tilted up
  - Mouth should be open wide when the impression material is injected into the ear
  - Mouth should remain slightly open (preferably with a bite block) until the material cures completely
